

Task 3

Group Task

Work on your Presentation

Following on from last week 2, each group should have completed the work on the organisation of the group and have planned and allocated the work for the presentation coursework among the various members of the group.

Your task for week 3 is to continue preparing for the coursework presentation so that by the end of this lab session individual members of the group have produced material that other group members can look at and discuss. This is in preparation for week 4 where you will put the presentation together as a whole.
